interzum forum italy and Xylexpo, two technical appointments in June for the furniture supply chain interzum forum italy, scheduled for 4-5 June 2026 in Bergamo, is the first event of the year dedicated to professionals across the entire wood-furniture supply chain. With a targeted focus on design, components, materials, upholstery, and solutions for the furniture, contract, and interior sectors, the event positions itself as a key meeting point for those working in the most innovative and strategic segments of the industry.

Just a few days later – from 9 to 12 June – Milan-Rho will host Xylexpo, the long-standing exhibition dedicated to wood-processing technologies. The proximity of the two events reflect a shared vision and a direct connection between those who design and those who produce.

This Bergamo-Milan axis represents a concrete opportunity for all visitors: professionals can take full advantage of a concentrated and complete market overview in just a few days, gaining insight into both finished solutions and production technologies.

“The synergy between these two events offers the sector a unique opportunity to delve into trends, meet key market players, and accelerate the development of new ideas,” said Thomas Rosolia, CEO of Koelnmesse Italia. “For interzum forum italy visitors in particular, this close timing with Xylexpo is an added value: those arriving in Bergamo to discover materials, components, and design solutions can continue their journey in Milan, entering the heart of production technologies. A continuity designed to expand knowledge, optimize travel, and offer a complete and coherent professional experience.”
